

Bio

Ethan is a 23-year-old college graduate living in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. He recently graduated with a degree in mechanical engineering.

Ethan loved university, especially the labs and the equipment there. For a long time, he was undecided if he should seek a post-graduate program or leave university. In the end, life in a relatively small college town made the difference.

Ethan wants to live in a large city like New York City.

Needs

Ethan understands that he and his degree is in high demand in certain industries. He would like to work in aerospace. He devoured every last bit of information about the Columbia forensics that took place at his university. In the end, he focused his studies on ground vehicles and is hoping to work on Mars rovers one day. For now, he is focusing on car manufacturers as the first employment.

Go-to

- Ethan is not sure where to apply. He always loved cars but without a particular brand focus. He does not know if he should apply to Tesla, as they are the future, start working at a smaller start-up or go with one of the renowned old-school car manufacturers. Just working on gasoline-burning dinosaurs just not seems right.
- -Ethan is not afraid of hard work and long hours. But he does not want to be burned out without reason.
- City-life: Ethan wants to live in a big anonymous city for once. He is from a smaller midwestern town and spent the last four years in Bethlehem. He wants to experience big city life.
- Further training: Ethan decided hard to stay at University for a postgraduate degree. He wants to learn more even after leaving University. His future employer should offer training or classes to educate the employees further.
